

CURRICULUM VITAE

Name: Andre Norman GALLOIS

Nationality: British.

Date and place of birth: 27th December 1945, Liverpool, England

Marital Status: married with two children.

Address:

University of Syracuse

Department of Philosophy

Hall of Languages

Syracuse

N.Y. 132-44

Tel: 315-443-5825 [work]

315-665-9605

e mail: agallois@syr.edu

Educational Background

1968 BA honours (philosophy) University of Sussex.

1972 B Phil. University of Oxford (philosophy).

Positions Held

Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida 1971-76.

Senior Tutor, Department of Philosophy, Monash University, 1976-78.

Lecturer, Education Faculty, Monash University, 1978-79

Lecturer, Department of Philosophy, University of Queensland, 1979-85.

Senior Lecturer, Department of Philosophy, University of Queensland, 1985-1995.

Reader, Department of Philosophy, University of Queensland, 1996.

Head, Department of Philosophy, University of Queensland, 1992-1996.

Professor, Department of Philosophy, Keele University, 1997 to 2002

Professor University of Syracuse 2002 to present

Teaching Experience

1972-1976: Assistant professor at the University of Florida. At Florida I taught a variety of courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels as well as supervising both M.A. and PhD. students.

Senior Tutor in the philosophy department at Monash University. As a member of the philosophy department at Monash I supervised M.A. theses in ethics, epistemology, and the philosophy of education.

After spending a year in the Education Faculty at Monash I joined the philosophy department at the University of Queensland where I taught courses in the areas of ethics, philosophy of mind, philosophy of language and metaphysics, history of philosophy including Kant.

Philosophy department at Keele University 1997 to 2002. At Keele I have taught courses in philosophy of language, philosophy of mind, philosophy of time and logic and philosophy of science.

In addition, I have acted as supervisor or joint supervisor of the following Ph.D. students:

Robert Elliott: PhD. on Environmental Ethics.

Deborah Brown: PhD. on philosophy of mind.

Martin Taylor PhD. on Merleau Ponty's philosophy of perception

Paul Murray PhD. on epistemology

Terence O'Regan PhD. on action theory.

Philosophy Department Syracuse University

Supervisor for following PhD Students

Irem Steen-metaphysics

Mark Steen- metaphysics

Brendan Murday-Philosophy of Logic

Kora Gould-Philosophy of Mind

Deke Gould-Philosophy of Logic

Anthony Fisher-Metaphysics

Kevin Kukla-Philosophy of Logic

All of the above awarded their PhD's

Kelly Mckormick-Ethics

Main Areas of Teaching Interest

Epistemology, Philosophy of Mind, Metaphysics and Ethics

Principle Courses Taught at the University of Queensland, and at Keele University

First Year:

Logic

Theory of Knowledge

Introductory Philosophy

Theories of Human Nature

The Empiricists: Locke, Berkeley and Hume

Second and Third Year

Metaphysics

Philosophy of Language

Philosophy of Mind

Epistemology

Kant

Ethics

Action Theory

The Empiricists

Principle Courses Taught at Syracuse University

197-Human Nature, 321 History of Analytic Philosophy, 321 Twentieth Century Theories, 321 Philosophy of language, 321 History of Epistemology, 487 Existence and Non-Existence 481 Contemporary Epistemology, 500 level Philosophy of Language, 750-A A Priori Knowledge, 750-Time, 690 Scepticism, 687 Proseminar, 107 Introduction to Philosophy, 109 Honours Seminar, 321 History of Analytic Philosophy, 393 Ethics

PhD Students Supervised at Syracuse University:

Kevin Kulka, Shannon Love, Brendan Murday, Mark Steen, Irem Kurstal, Kora Gold, Deke, Gold, Anthony Fisher, Kelly McKormick,

Research

Publications

Published Articles or Chapters in Books

“Berkeley’s Master Argument”, Philosophical Review, LXXXIII (1), January 1974.

“Van Inwagen on Free Will and Determinism”, Philosophical Studies, 32, 1977.

“How Not to Make a Newcomb Choice”, Analysis, 39 (1), January 1979.

“Basic properties and Sense Datum Attributes”, The Personalist, 60 (1), 1979.

“Locke on Causation, Compatibilism and Newcomb’s Problem”, Analysis, 41 (1), January 1981.

(with Siegal Michael) “Expert Intuitions and the Interpretation of Social Psychological Experiments”, Journal of Behavioural and Brain Sciences, 6 (3), September 1983.

- (with Elliot, Robert) "Would It Have Been Me?", Australasian Journal of Philosophy, 62 (3), September 1984.
- "True Believers and Radical Sceptics", Philosophia, 14 (3-4), December 1984.
- "Rigid Designation and the Contingency of Identity", Mind, 95 (1), 1986.
- "Carter on Contingent Identity and Rigid Designation", Mind, 97, April 1988.
- "Occasional Identity", Philosophical Studies, 58, 1990.
- "Putnam, Brains in a Vat, and Arguments for Scepticism", Mind, 101 (402), April 1992.
- "Ramachandran on Restricting Rigidity", Mind, 102 (405), January 1993.
- "Reply to Ramachandran", Mind, 102 (405), January 1993.
- "Is Global Scepticism Self Refuting?", Australasian Journal of Philosophy, 71 (1), March 1993.
- "Deflationary Self Knowledge", Philosophy in Mind, ed. John O'Leary Hawthorn & Michaelis Michael, Kluwer Academic Publishers 1994.
- "Asymmetry in Attitudes and the Nature of Time", Philosophical Studies, 72, 1994.
- (with John O'Leary Hawthorn) "Externalism and Scepticism", Philosophical Studies, 81: 1-26, 1996
- "Can an Anti-Realist Live With the Past?", Australasian Journal of Philosophy, 75: 288-303, 1997
- "Does Ontology Rest on a Mistake?", The Aristotelian Society: Supplementary Proceedings, LXXII 1998
- "Sense Data": Article for the Routledge Encyclopedia of Philosophy, ed. E. Craig, Routledge, 1998 (invited)
- "De Re and De Dicto": Article for the Routledge Encyclopedia of Philosophy (invited).
- 'The Indubitability of the Cogito' Pacific Philosophical Quarterly, 81, 4 (2000): 363-384

“First Person Access and Consciousness”, Philosophical Topics, ed. James Tomberlin: Issue on Introspection (invited), Fall 2000

'Langford and Ramachandran on Occasional Identities', Philosophical Quarterly, 2001

'Sider on Four Dimensionalism' Philosophy and Phenomenological Research, Vol. LXVIII No.3, May 2004 (Invited)

Article on Identity and Time for Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy

'Consciousness, Reasons and Moore's Paradox' in Moore's Paradox ed. John Williams, Oxford University Press, 2007

'Is Knowing Having the Right to Be Sure?' in Aspects of Knowing: Epistemological Essays ed. Stephen Hetherington, Ashgate Press, 2007

'The Simplicity of Identity', Journal of Philosophy Volume CII, Number 6 June 2005: 273-302

'Deflationary Self-Knowledge' in Anthony Hatzimoysis ed. Self-Knowledge Oxford University Press, 2011

Published Books

The World Without, The Mind Within, Cambridge University Press, 1996

Occasions of Identity: A Study in the Metaphysics of Identity, Oxford University Press, 1998

Recently Completed and Current Research Projects

In recent years my research projects have fallen within two main areas. The first, metaphysics and philosophy of language, is illustrated by the book Occasions of Identity which has been published by Oxford. In that book I defend the currently unorthodox view that there are genuine occasional and contingent identities. I argue that this view is coherent, and that it helps to solve a number of well known problems about persistence through time.

The second area is at the intersection of epistemology and philosophy of mind. It is represented by my book The World Without the Mind Within. In it I discuss the authority we allegedly have over self-ascriptions of psychological states. I examine accounts of first person authority offered by such philosophers as Donald Davidson, Sydney Shoemaker and Crispin Wright, and defend an alternative to theirs. In addition, I explore questions about the relationship between first person authority, privileged access, externalist views of content and external world scepticism.

The book I am currently working on connects with issues in the philosophy of language and the issues in the philosophy of mind explored in The World Without the Mind Within. In the current book, among others, I discuss the following issues: Moore's Paradox, Consciousness and Reasons. So far, I have completed a first draft of the book, and should be ready to send it off in the near future.

Aside from the book I am working on issues about time and identity related to my paper on Identity in the Journal of Philosophy. I have also begun work a paper on the connection between necessity and the a priori.

I have also signed a contract with Routledge Press for a book on time and identity. The book will be a survey of solutions to the paradoxes of identity and change discussed in my earlier work Occasions of Identity. In addition, I have been offered a contract to contribute an article to the Palgrave Handbook of Philosophical Method

